

Visit to Antar Bharti Ashram

15th January 2014

On 15th January 2014 Rotract club of Sadabai Rasoni continued their weekly project with happiness by visiting Antar Bharti Ashram to help the under privileged children. The rotractors were all very happy to visit the ashram as this activity provides them to interact with the little children

Even though the children had their regular classes in the Ashram, the members of this club lend their helping hand by guiding the students. The rotractors also taught them alphabets and numberings in a fun learning and enjoyable way that will help them in future.

Later on along with the studies they also played with the children, and with that the ashram was filled with laughter and smiles.

The members of the club felt very happy by giving this kind gesture. The students and the members both enjoyed the session throughout. The little kind hearts thanked the rotractors with claps and smiles.

Visit to Antar Bharti Ashram

22nd November 2013

On 22nd November 2013 the members of Rotract club of Sadabai Raisoni Women's College visited Antar Bharti Ashram. "It is said that the best help you can give to a child is not monetary help, but a chance to study". This is well demonstrated by the students of SRWC who have taken on the responsibility of regularly visiting the Ashram to help the under privileged students in their studies.

Even though the children have their regular classes in the Ashram, the members of this club lend their helping hand by mentoring the students. Teaching them in a more interactive and fun loving ways to make learning interesting and easy. A questioning session was held where children were given chocolates for every correct answer.

The members experienced the joy of sharing and giving by this simple gesture.
